LACUNY Dialogues: A Town Hall Meeting

Virtual Libraries – Face-to-Face Instruction: Outreach, Marketing, and Faculty Partnerships

As digital libraries "democratize" access to information, how do we redesign our services for maximum effect in a diminishing gatekeeper role? In this transformed environment, strategies for onsite reference and instruction gain increasing importance. In a larger context, how do we more successfully integrate the library as a campuswide resource? Are we getting the message out? What is our message?
