The LACUNY Professional Development Committee presents:

Setting a Professional Development Agenda: Individual and Organizational Needs

Friday April 28, 2006
2:00 PM to 4:00 PM

Baruch College
Newman Library Conference Room 415

facilitated by Professor Jana Varlejs, Associate Professor
Rutgers School of Communication, Information and Library Studies

Most of us are challenged to keep up with changes and demands made upon us in our work lives. We tend to respond on the fly to each new pressure to learn or adapt. Pausing to take stock of our needs and desires for personal growth and organizational development is the first step in creating a plan to address challenges systematically and regain control.

Participants in this interactive workshop will:
• complete a brief inventory of personal and organizational interests
• identify projects that can benefit both individual and organizational needs
• brainstorm strategies for carrying out these projects
